ArtServe Welcomes William Steuer to its Board

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (February 12, 2026) – ArtServe, Fort Lauderdale’s award-winning arts incubator, is proud to announce the appointment of William (Will) Steuer to its Board.

Steuer is an International Strategy and Trade Advisor and the Managing Director of Stoy Consulting, LLC. A retired career member of the U.S. Department of State’s Senior Foreign Service, he brings decades of experience in diplomacy, cross-cultural engagement, and high-level negotiations to both the corporate and nonprofit sectors.

“Will’s international experience and strategic insight add a valuable global lens to our board,” said ArtServe Board Chair Doug Evans. “His belief in the power of art and culture to reflect our values as a society aligns strongly with ArtServe’s commitment to supporting artists and strengthening our creative community.”

As a board member, Steuer will help guide ArtServe’s efforts to empower artists, foster artistic innovation and enhance the cultural vitality of South Florida.

“I’m excited to bring my cross-cultural business perspective to ArtServe,” said William Steuer. “Decades of experience around the world have shown me that how we support our artists reflects who we are as a society. Art and culture must be nurtured and constantly developed.”

Steuer resides in Fort Lauderdale.

For more than 30 years, ArtServe has supported artists and cultural organizations by providing the tools, resources and opportunities needed to build sustainable creative businesses. With the addition of Steuer, ArtServe continues to strengthen its leadership and broaden its impact locally and beyond.
